Scams and Price Gouging

Attorney General Ken Paxton warns Texans that state law prohibits price gouging [4] in the wake of a declared disaster. The AG's office advises: If you feel that you are being unfairly charged for goods or services such as drinking water, food, batteries, generators gasoline or towing, raise the issue of price gouging with the provider. Speak to the provider respectfully but be frank.

If you are unable to resolve the matter, file a complaint [5] with the office.

Barratry or Improper Solicitation

The State Bar of Texas reminds the public that solicitation of a potential legal case is a crime unless the lawyer has a family relationship with you or you have been a client of the lawyer in the past or are currently a client. Solicitation of you is also a crime if perpetrated by a non-lawyer employee or representative of the lawyer, unless the previous conditions exist. Please report any prohibited contacts by lawyers or their representatives, whether in person, telephone, or otherwise, to your local law enforcement authority or the State Bar of Texas toll-free at (866) 224-5999.
