

Cause Number: _____
Fill in cause number and court information exactly as it appears in this case.

In the Interest of the following Minor Child(ren):
(Print first, middle, and last name of each child.)

In the _____ Court Number

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

- District Court
 County Court at Law

_____ County, Texas

Order Transferring Suit Affecting the Parent-Child Relationship

Print your answers.

On this date, the Motion to Transfer filed by _____ was considered by the Court.
Name of party who filed Motion.

After considering the pleadings on file, the Court finds that:
(Check all that apply.)

- One party to this suit is a resident of _____ County, Texas, and all other parties,
County Name
including the child(ren) affected by this proceeding, reside outside Texas or one or more of the parties affected by this proceeding reside outside Texas and more than one party, or the child, or one or more of the children affected by the proceeding reside in Texas in different counties. The Court finds that the parties have agreed to the transfer of this suit under the provisions of section 155.301 of the Texas Family Code.
- No controverting affidavit has been filed.
- This is the Court of continuing exclusive jurisdiction over the children the subject of the Suit to Modify the Parent-Child Relationship currently pending in this Court.
- The children have resided in _____ County, Texas for at least six months prior to the filing of the Suit to Modify the Parent-Child Relationship.
County Name
- The Motion to Transfer this Cause to _____ County, Texas was timely filed.
County where divorce was filed.

Therefore, the Court:

- Grants the Motion to Transfer and hereby orders that this cause be transferred to _____, Texas. On receipt of the pleadings, documents, and orders, the County where divorce was filed.
clerk of the transferee court must docket this suit in its appropriate court in the county pursuant to its local rules, assigning it a Cause Number and Court. The (check one) District County Clerk shall notify the judge of the transferee court, all parties, and the clerk of this Court (and this Court's local registry/the state disbursement unit, if applicable) that the suit has been docketed.

The clerk of this Court is ordered to transfer, no later than the 10th working day after the date this order is signed, in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Family Code, the following to _____, Texas:
County where divorce was filed.

1. All pleadings in the pending proceeding;
2. A certified copy of all entries in the minutes;
3. A certified copy of each final order;
4. A certified copy of this Order signed by this Court; and
5. All other case files concerning this matter.

The clerk of this Court is ordered to keep a copy of the transferred pleadings and documents.

OR

Denies the Motion to Transfer.

Presiding Judge

Date Signed